Remember Dr. Compton for coroner.

Alex Burr is the man to cast your vote for.

J. S. Estabrook has made a good surveyor. He is qualified and deserves your vote.

Do not lose your vote. Vote for Miss Morgareidge. She is a Cherry Co. girl and will be elected.

Miss Morgareidge holds a first grade certificate and is otherwise thoroughly qualified for county superintendent.

J. T. Kief is receiving hearty support for sheriff and will make a good one. You can't make a mistake in giving him your vote.

If Goold was alright and offered a satisfactory explanation to chairman Lindsay why did Lindsay compel him to resign or withdraw.

The World Herald is the meanest paper in the state for getting next to republican schemes and exposing them. Why doesn't the World Herald mind its own business?

Lets give Alex Burr our vote for county clerk. He is the man of worthy and sincere motives and will be a county clerk for the good of the people and no selfish motion or purpose to fill.

J. W. Daniels again showed his littleness yesterday when the editor of this paper called upon him for the copy for the ballots according to a contract with the county commissioners which gave the printing of the ballots to I. M. Rice.

It goes without saying that Judge Towne our present county judge will be elected to succeed himself. His conduct has been such that he has the confidence and the respect of the voters of Cherry Co. without regard to politics.

Mr. J. F. Young our candidate for county treasurer is a thorough business man in every respect. He is a good pen man, quick and accurate in his calculations and has good business judgment. In short he is just the kind of a man we want to manage the finances of our county.

Miss Jennie Morgareidge, the next county Supt. of Cherry Co. is a young woman of sterling worth. She will be highly esteemed by all who are interested in the schools of the county and especially by the teachers. Miss Morgareidge after teaching several years in Cherry County went to the Fremont Normal and completed a course in that school. She is now teaching the primary department of the Wood Lake school, where she is giving universal satisfaction.

W. Butler, the nominee for commissioner of the third district, will be a worthy man and is qualified. Both parties should be congratulated in putting up men like Rutler and Laufer. They are about the same age, both single and the best hearted men in the world. You surely cannot make a mistake in the 3rd district. We hear that Mr. Lutler is an old school teacher and will be well qualified for the position. He is worthy and a very pleasant man any time you meet him. Mr. Butler will appreciate your vote.

Miss Morgareidge is deserving of the office of County Superintendent and will we hope be elected. At Woodlake where Miss Morgareidge is teaching her second term, she is very popular and beside being a smart, modest, and sensible young lady, she is qualified for that office and is a Cherry Co. girl that our citizens and voters can admire as a true womanly character. All of our voters should unite with their support of this worthy candidate. She will surely be elected if our people do their duty.

Cuigley & Chapman,
Druggists,
Valentine, Neb.

Can any republican feel glorious over H. L. Goold's nomination for regent, or for his compulsory withdrawal or for the man who is to be named to succeed him Thursday night by chairman Lindsay?

Seidm does it happen that men, of such ability as it is necessary to perform faithfully and well the duties of a county office, and are popular because of their true value as men are placed upon a ticket only to be turned down by some trivial excuse. Let voters support such men as they may be proud to say in each case, "He had my vote and I rejoice that we have men in office to handle our county affairs. Not office seekers who from their beginning seek office because of their own imagined greatness and superiority."

A vote for Alex Burr means a vote for an honest man upon whom you can depend for honest and careful attention to duty in every detail of his office. Mr. Burr has labored for the county as county commissioner in a thoughtful, careful and conscientious manner and though he had numerous Valentine men against him to begin with he has conducted himself in such an honorable way as to command the respect and win the admiration of all who know him. His unwavering principles of right, his unflinching courage to duty and his superior ability makes Alex Burr the most capable candidate for county clerk. We want your votes your influence among your friends and Alex Burr will be our next county clerk.

GOOLD WITHDRAWS.

WORLD-HERALD EXPOSURE IS TOO MUCH FOR HIM.

Couldn't Stand Out Against Demand to Get Off the Ticket—Will Stueffer Be Forced to Report—Nebraska Voters Should Know Where Money is Kept.

The G. O. P. is a thing of the past in Nebraska. It is the S. O. P. now. Instead of being a "grand old party," it is a pretty badly "scared old party." A few days ago the World-Herald made certain charges against H. L. Goold of Ogalalla, at present, one of the regents of the state university and candidate for re-election on the republican ticket. On the same day the Omaha Bee demanded that the republican state committee be immediately called together to investigate the charges, and if the same were found to be true, that Mr. Goold should resign. The State Journal and its evening edition, the News, promptly pronounced the whole thing a canard. Last Sunday Mr. Goold was all day in conference with the republican state committee and finally tendered his resignation as a candidate, which was then filed with the secretary of state.

The vital portions of the World-Herald article are as follows:
(World-Herald, Oct. 11, 1901.)

H. L. Goold of Ogalalla, at present a regent of the state university and the republican nominee for another six-year term in the same office, is one of the nominees of a convention that adopted the following plank in its platform in support of which Mr. Goold solidly voted the Keith county delegation:

"The republicans of Nebraska disclaim for the party any sympathy with custodians of public moneys found guilty of the betrayal of sacred trusts. Without impugning the motives of the governor in any case, we deprecate any exercise of executive clemency tending to create the false impression that the republican party is disposed to condone the willful embezzlement of public funds under any circumstances, and we request the immediate recall of the parole of Joseph S. Bartley."

The fact that Mr. Goold then had and still has in his own name over $1,000 of the money charged against Bartley did not prevent his joining in the "holier-than-you" declaration and insisting on the return of Bartley to the penitentiary, nor did it prevent the republican convention nominating Mr. Goold to run for office on its hypocritical platform, inveighing against those "found guilty of the betrayal of sacred trusts," and declaring with a flourish of trumpets against "the false impression that the republican party is disposed to condone the willful embezzlement of public funds under any circumstances."

The following letter is self-explanatory:

Ogalalla, Neb., Oct. 2, 1901.—To the Editor of the World-Herald: It may be of interest to the people of Nebraska that some of the missing funds of this state are in the hands of H. L. Goold, nominee on the republican ticket for regent of the state university.
"Goold has admitted this to be a fact to a couple of his closest advisers here, who are trying to help him raise money to make a payment and prevent an exposure. It is very probable that the republican state convention's action had something to do with it, for Goold voted the Keith county delegation as a unit to adopt the plank in the platform demanding that Bartley be sent back to the pen."
"Bartley let Goold have this state money many years ago, and he has never paid any of it back. It seems surprising that under the circumstances he voted that way, but he told his friends that he did not dare to oppose the resolutions. He said there were others in the convention in the same shape as he was."
"If that is the way the republican party arrives at its convictions as to principle, it will be well for the people to know it. I approved the action of the convention at the time, but I don't think as much of it now as I did."
"Yours for fair play,"

Bartley Says It Is True.

For the purpose of investigating the truth of the statements contained in this communication, a World-Herald representative went to Lincoln on Wednesday to see Bartley at the penitentiary and inquire as to the facts.
The former state treasurer was found at work in the penitentiary greenhouse. He was told that the World-Herald had received information from Ogalalla that H. L. Goold had some of the money which Bartley was convicted of embezzling, and for which he was now serving sentence; that Goold had joined in the demand that Bartley be returned to the penitentiary, and had been put forward as his party's nominee for another term as regent.
"What is the truth about it?" he was asked.
Bartley made no response, but began pacing up and down the narrow aisle between the banks of foliage. His face was an exposition of contending emotions.
"Did you, or did you not, let H. L. Goold have state money to which he was not entitled when you were state treasurer?"
Bartley stopped short, and said quietly but firmly:
"Well, I don't know as there is any reason why I should lie to protect a man who voted his delegation in the convention to send me back to the penitentiary, when I have already served a six-year sentence. I must admit the truth or lie about it. Yes, I did let him have the money."

"How much did you let him have?"
"I do not care to state."
"Was it as much as $1,000?"
"Yes, it was."
Goold Took State Money.
"It was state money?"
"Yes. It was paid with a check signed 'J. S. Bartley.'"
"Did he pay it back?"
"No; he still has it, and I hold his paper for the full amount."
"Did he solicit you to let him have this money without being entitled to a penny of it, and knowing that it involved a violation of the law for you to let him have?"
"Certainly."
"When did he get this money?"
"August 18, 1893."
"That was before Goold was elected regent of the university?"
"Yes, two years before."
"And during the years thereafter during which you were both in state office he did not pay back a dollar of it?"
"Not a penny."
"That sum was included in the shortage charged up against you?"
"Yes."
"And that is the Goold nominated at the recent convention, and the one who voted the Keith county delegation in support of a demand that you be returned here to serve out a sentence for embezzling that money?"
"Yes," replied Bartley grimly, as he turned to work again among the plants and flowers.

On the Same Day the Omaha Bee, Said:
The grave charges that have just been brought against one of the nominees of that convention for university regent make it incumbent on the state committee to take immediate action for the enforcement of the party's declaration. The charge is that Mr. Goold is an abettor of Joseph S. Bartley's embezzlement. The duty of the party is plain. Chairman Lindsay should at once call the state committee together and summon Mr. Goold to refute the charge or tender his resignation as a nominee. The committee has full authority to fill vacancies that may occur on the ticket and it is not too late to exercise it.

The duty of the state committee does not stop there. The republican state convention without dissent declared unequivocally for periodic statements by all custodians of public funds informing the people of the amounts and whereabouts of the public moneys in their keeping.
Unless Treasurer Stueffer promptly complies with the demand of the convention without evasion it will become the duty of the state committee to call on Governor Savage to enforce it through the authority vested in him by section 22 of article v of the state constitution.

After an all day conference with the republican committee Sunday, Mr. Goold left for home early Monday morning, and the only statement regarding his action in withdrawing from the ticket that can be obtained is contained in a letter addressed to Chairman Lindsay, which was given to the press that morning. The call issued by Mr. Lindsay specifies that the meeting is for the purpose of filling the vacancy and for transacting such other business as may come before the committee.
Following is Mr. Goold's letter explanation:
LINCOLN, Oct. 14.—To Hon. H. C. Lindsay, Chairman Republican State Central Committee: Dear Sir—Certain statements alleged to have been made by ex-State Treasurer Bartley to the effect that while state treasurer he loaned me $1,000 which has never been paid have recently been published in the World-Herald. On the 28th day of August I was honored by the republican state convention with a renomination for regent of the state university. Desiring to relieve the committee and my colleagues on the ticket and the voters of the state from any embarrassment that may arise from the above-mentioned statements, I have filed withdrawal from the state ticket with the secretary of state.

Statement of Facts.

In addition to this I wish to make a statement of the actual facts in the case. Some time prior to August, 1896, J. S. Bartley sent $1,000 by mail to the State Loan and Trust company, a bank doing business at Ogalalla, and received a demand certificate payable to himself. The bank failed in August, 1896, and was duly placed in the hands of a receiver. Mr. Bartley had never at any time prior to the failure of the bank presented his certificate for payment or demanded payment in any way.

At the time of the failure I was president of as well as a stockholder in said bank. My interest in the bank did not at any time exceed two-fifths of the capital stock. I never had a controlling interest in the bank. I had nothing to do with Mr. Bartley personally. His transactions were with the bank exclusively.

When the bank failed all the resident depositors without exception united in a petition to the district court for the appointment of myself as receiver. I was so appointed and gave bond for $25,000. Soon after my appointment I sent blanks to Mr. Bartley for proof of his claim against the bank. This proof Mr. Bartley made in his individual name before a notary in Lincoln and on receipt of the proof I sent to Mr. Bartley the usual receiver's certificate.

H. L. GOOLD.

Goold has withdrawn from the ticket, but he has not resigned as regent. Will he resign? Rosewater has won out in his demand for Goold's withdrawal; will he be successful in getting the state treasurer to tell where he keeps that $267,524 of trust funds?
